Preventing spitting or casting of buds („loose buds“).

Some varieties may "spit out" or drop flower buds. These "loose buds" are developed while the bulbs are in the plunging bed. To avoid them:

- a) Do not plant too early.
- b) Check the drainage in the plunging bed. Make sure bulbs are not getting too much water.
- c) Do not let the temperature in the plunging bed get much higher than 48° F. especially about 6 to 8 weeks after planting bulbs.

Transfer of the pots from the trenches to the greenhouse should be done very quickly during cold weather. Cover the bulbs during transport and raise the temperature gradually after they are brought into the greenhouse.

How to order Hyacinths

We offer our Hyacinths in various sizes listed as follows.

The prices are for the most common trade varieties.

Darwin Tulips

„HIGHLIGHTS OF THE GARDEN“

No other Tulips equal the Darwin Tulips in splendor and usefulness for various purposes.

Introduced into Holland some fifty years ago, Darwin Tulips soon found their way into gardens all over the world and were eagerly accepted by the floristtrade. Demand increases from year to year. Since their introduction, many beautiful new varieties have been developed and were received with enthusiasm by the public, but some of the first introduced varieties, such as Clara Butt, Farncombe Sanders, La Tulipe Noire, Pride of Haarlem and others still rank high among the popular varieties.

Blooming in May, carried on strong, erect stems, the Darwin Tulips with their stately beauty and gorgeous colors, red, pink, lavender, purple, black, yellow and white are ideal for all garden purposes and excellent for cutflowers. Many varieties can also be successfully forced for cutting and in pots and pans. Some for Valentine Day and others for Easter pots.

When planted under so called „cold glass“ in good soil, and thus coming into bloom protected from bad weather, Darwin Tulips will produce a rich crop of clean strong flowers before the bulbs grown outside are in bloom.

Most varieties have tall stems.

With their dark colors and shades in bronze, mahogany, orange, purple, they make a striking „exotic“ contrast with the bright colors of the Darwins.

They bloom in May.

On account of their large, heavy flowers Parrot Tulips are not recommended for planting in beds. In groups and in borders, they are very effective. Excellent for cutflowers. Placed in shallow bowls or dishes when cut, they make a very artistic effect on tables.

Hyacinthus candicans are planted in Spring and are fine in groups in borders. They are not hardy, must be lifted in the fall and kept frostfree during winter.

LILIUM

Lilies belong to the most beautiful flowers.
The well known Easter Lily takes a prominent place in the florist trade specially for Easter forcing. Lillium longiflorum in varieties, Croft Lilies and others are largely used for this purpose. As they are not grown in Holland in large quantities, they are not mentioned in our list. There are however some varieties being developed in Holland which are very promising for the future for this purpose.
Of the Varieties mentioned in our list, Regale, Speciosum and the Umbellatum varieties are also good for greenhouse culture. All Lilies mentioned in our list are splendid for gardening, they do excellently in borders, if planted in suitable spots.
The following Lilies are shipped in late fall and during the winter and early spring.
